Dreams do come true. Ask Dave.

He purchased an era

You could call it a "Gathering of Eagles," the way pilots pop — and popped — in and out of Sunol's liveliest garage.

Or one man's dream, stashed in his ambitions and brought to fold last month.

But essentially, it just may be the oldest living gas station in the valley. Where pilots have gathered since George Schultz opened and ran the place back in '27, and where "Fritzy" Zeis, World War I German pilot, and Charlie "McGonegal," the spelling long since lost to the heirs of nostalgia, argued the case for the Airwing of the American Expeditionary Force.

Now it's Dave Cook's. The quiet, three - pump station — Sunol's liveliest because it's Sunol's only garage — opened last month under his aegis almost 20 years after he first turned the winding road into the green Niles Canyon.

Dave extends the eagle tradition. An aircraft mechanic and flight engineer in Europe during World War II, he took to bounding round the world for Trans Ocean Air Lines, now bankrupt, and Japan Air Lines before he realized his 10 - year dream.

"They wanted to send me to New York after almost 10 years in Japan. I didn't retire, I just worked myself out of a job. I tried to buy the place last year, but finally put together a deal this year," he says.

He looks a little like Lowell Thomas, this man's who's yearned for Sunol's serenity since he left 11 years ago.

The sandy hair and crisp moustache go well with the soft, paced voice long since dropped by frantic Americana, circa 1976.

All of which fits well with the rustic station and Sunol's aura of another era.

He bounds from an oil change for Mike Donovan — a pilot who lived here once and who remembers George and Fritzey and Charlie and met Dave for the first time this week — to a steady stream of customers under the spreading wooden awning.

A local with a pickup truck of watermelons, a woman from town and a stranger looking for the local nursery get the same, quiet, friendly greeting.

A fire truck, glistening lime green in yesterday's almost tropical humidity, stops in on a trip from Martinez to a Southern California convention. Two bikers need gas and suddenly join the crew when trouble stalls a noisey, knocking car.

No solution, but lots of empathy.

Dave's wife, Marianne, is a story unto herself.

Born in Germany, she and her parents left the eastern sector of Berlin the day before the Wall went up.

She strokes "Cookie," one of the family's two Pekingese, while their 12-year-old son, Dave, pumps gas and her husband interviews Scotty, a walking hunk of history whose brogue livens the stifling afternoon.

Clipboards labeled "projects," and "want list" dangle from the wall of the half - century old station. Dave has plans.

"We're going to get the wood repaired out there," he says pointing to the overhang, "then get the place painted."

Modernized?

"No," he laughs softly, "we'll keep it like a country station.

"I love Sunol."

Assemblyman Mori favors tax reform

A dramatic tax reform measure in the Legislature which could lead to big changes in the local tax structure has the support of Assemblyman Floyd Mori.

The bill, Senate Constitutional Amendment 47, would allow the Legislature to set a lower tax rate on residential property than on all other property.

Mori was unavailable yesterday for direct comment, but in a press release he said that he was glad to see the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee recommend the bill for passage on the Assembly floor.

The concept of "split assessment rolls" has been debated hotly in the Legislature and narrowly survived earlier votes in the Senate.

It is not clear yet what effect the constitutional amendment, if placed on the November ballot and approved by voters, would do to local taxing structures.

The League of California Cities bulletin quotes Assemblyman Willie Brown as saying that local governments will need to be given broader revenue raising authority, apparently to make up for the revenue which would be lost through the tax breaks to homeowners.

Another possibility, suggested by Pleasanton Assistant to the City Manager Jim Walker, is that the tax break could be another sort of homeowners' exemption. If it were, the state could give subvention money to local government to make up for the revenue it lost from the homeowner. That would be one way of redistributing the tax structure.

Another possibility, according to David Fractor, a Legislative Aid in Mori's Sacramento office, is for cities to adopt a municipal income tax to replace the loss from property tax revenue.

It's possible, too, that the Legislature may intend for cities and counties to raise the tax rates on commercial and industrial property while cutting it on residential property, said Walker. But that situation wouldn't help Pleasanton or Livermore much because of the lack of a commercial and industrial tax base here.

Both Walker and Livermore's financial director, George Nolan, agreed that if SCA 47 does require cities to have a lower tax rate on residential property, it will have a big impact on the valley cities, since single family homes make up so much of the tax base.

But the wording of the proposed constitutional amendment looks as though the lower tax rate may be up to the discretion of the taxing authority.

The entire amendment reads: "The Legislature may provide for the taxation of a dwelling, as defined by the Legislature, when occupied by an owner as his or her principal place of residence, at a rate lower than that levied on other property."

Two convert choices?

This is a continuing series concerning seventh - eighth grade housing in the Murray School District and attendant enrollment and construction problems)

The Citizens Advisory Committee could present two choices for converting of Murray district schools to solely seventh -eighth grade use when it presents its findings to the board of trustees.

CAC chairman Bob Scheppler told The Times Thursday this is a possibility, unless survey responses from Murray district residents are "overwhelmingly" for status quo.

Survey forms are now being compiled by Applied Technology and results may be known by the Sept 1 meeting of the CAC.

Scheppler verified two aspects of the total problem facing the CAC by saying crowded conditions and the number of portables at Donlon have spurred study of seventh - eighth grade housing and access to equal quality curriculum.

A second aspect deals with the CAC's concern at what the board will do once it receives the data and recommendations from the panel.

Scheppler said Thursday he "frankly couldn't say how they (the board) will react. They're trying to get an impartial look so they can make a decision. I just don't know if they'd reject our recommendations or not."

If the CAC holds with a poll taken several weeks ago, they'll recommend conversion of Dublin School to seventh - eighth grade use starting in September of '77.

"We might decide to present the board with two choices for conversion," Scheppler said, "but if the parent survey is overwhelmingly in favor of status quo then we'll have to change our thinking."

"Regardless of what school would have been considered for conversion," Scheppler continued, "I think we would've had upset parents. The comment came in reaction to a question of what influence the Residents - In - Action (Dublin School area group) may have had to date on the CAC.

The RIA was formed largely in reaction to Dublin being considered for conversion from K-8 to 7-8. The approximately 25 members of the group have said they want to "keep our neighborhood school" and not have it changed to strictly junior high.

Scheppler said the district had taken the position about four years ago that the optimum organizational setup was K-6 and 7-8 schools "and I believe that's the way to go in terms of phoviding equal education opportunities for all children."

At the present time, though, Wells is the only 7-8 school and Donlon, Nielsen and Dublin are K-8. Murray, Fallon, Cronin, Frederiksen and Lydiksen are K-6

Frederiksen has been the only other school to be given anything more than passing consideration for conversion to 7-8. It is a relatively short distance from Wells, however.

Scheppler said his initial question when he came on the panel was why Donlon and Lydiksen weren't a part of the Pleasanton Joint School District.

He said the answer he got dealt with Murray's tax base and historical connotations.

Donlon and Lydiksen are the only two (of nine) district schools south of Highway 580.

Scheppler also feels failure to pass the $1 million bond issue last March has, in part, triggered the current study. Reflecting for a moment, Scheppler said "it's too bad we had to spend so much money to grade that site (Dolan)." The latter was to be the site of a seventh - eighth grade school, utilizing monies from the bond.

As matters stand now, no school will be built on the Dolan site in the forseeable future.

In concluding remarks, Scheppler said the time could come in the next two or three years when the district might have to consider combining schools (such as Murray and Fallon) because of dwindling enrollments.

Presently, Fallon and Cronin have the two lowest enrollments in the district, both hovering around the 300 mark.

Murray salary talks break down

A Murray teachers bargaining team and administration negotiator Keith Breon have apparently hit a stone wall in attempts to affect a salary settlement.

Murray Teachers Association President Bob Kroetch said a hoped-for all day session Thursday was aborted after one hour "due to lack of progress and failure of the district's paid negotiator (Breon) to keep the scheduled session."

The teacher bargaining team and Breon, who has similar duties with the Pleasanton, Amador and San Ramon districts, met most of the day Wednesday without coming to any agreement, according to Kroetch.

Issues discussed at the sessions included evaluation of certificated personnel, safety conditions, work day and salary.

Regina Paulas, chairwoman of the teacher's team, said after the abbreviated Thursday session, "We are very disappointed that Mr. Breon did not keep today's month-long scheduled date. This means that there is very little hope for a settlement before school begins. Mr. Breon seems to have too many irons in the fire in other districts and is delaying progress with us here in Murray."

Kroetch said the district has given a counter - proposal of a 2.3 per cent increase to the salary schedule and maintenance of fringe benefits. This is an increase of 1.9 per cent above the offer of .4 per cent made on July 27, according to Kroetch.

Murray teachers are asking for a 9.75 per cent increase to be used for an increase to the salary schedule and maintenance of fringe benefits.

"The increase would bring the district more in line with surrounding districts," Kroetch alleged.

District administrators were not immediately available to respond to MTA comments.

Major schools project near

LIVERMORE— Phase II, the major portion of the Livermore Valley Unified School District's $10 million building program, formally gets underway Wednesday with ground - breaking at three "core school" sites.

The program is being financed from lease - purchase and tax override measures passed in March of 1975 by Livermore voters.

Almost nine million of the $10 million is earmarked for Phase II projects. Ground - breaking will be for a K-6 school on the Sunset East site on Frankfurt Way, and core buildings at Rancho Las Positas and Christensen.

Completion is programmed for September of '77, with Christensen becoming a K-6 facility (it's now 3-6) along with Rancho Las Positas. The latter is now K-2.

Permanent central structures, offices, gymnasium and library, will be flanked by relocatable classroom wings at each site.

Also slated to get underway next week are building rehabilitation projects at Junction Avenue and East Avenue schools Both have been below state construction standards for junior high schools.

Water agency firms up pipeline ballot measure

DUBLIN — The Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA) last night formally adopted a resolution calling for a revenue bond election on a proposed $21 million valley sewage pipeline, agreed to a ballot wording including an $8.3 million local cost, and agreed to move a surge pond farther away from Pleasanton residents at a $100,000 savings.

The ballot wording has to be submitted to the county today for inclusion on the November 2 ballot. The ballot argument, a statement by LAVWMA members promoting passage of the sewage line measure, must be turned into officials before the end of next week.

The pipeline is considered the best alternative to a state ruling that the valley must stop dumping sewage into Alameda Creek, where it flows downstream and pollutes the fresh water supplies of Fremont and surrounding communities Fines of p6,000 a day could be imposed if the dumping is not stopped.

Local cost of the pipeline, to be divided between Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore, will be $8.3 million, with the other $12.7 million funded by federal and state monies. This will mean a $2.74- $3.45 increase in local monthly sewerage service bills.

The pipeline will carry a maximum residential sewage capacity of 15.62 million gallons per day (mgd), with an extra 4.1 mgd for future industrial uses in Livermore and Pleasanton. The industrial capacity is supposed to attract business to the valley, thought to lower property taxes and decrease commuter miles traveled for valley residents employed at the new industries.

The ballot measure will read as follows:

Shall Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency issue revenue bonds in the principal amount of $8,325,000 pursuant to the Revenue Bonds Law of 1941 to provide funds for the acquisition and construction of a waste water export system comprising facilities for the export of waste water to San Francisco Bay, including regulating reservoirs, interceptors, pumping stations, pipelines, forced mains and surge ponds, with a maximum capacity of approximately 19.72 million gallons per day, and including related pumps, machinery and control facilities and lands and easements therefor, and other works, properties or structures necessary or convenient for a waste water export system?

Housing dirt cheap, if you're a hampster

Lisa Durham of Sandalwood Way, Pleasanton, believes in going "first class" when it comes to supplying her pet hampster, "Pumpernickel," with a home.

Leading off the rodant's residence is his "train" which, when he gets in and "drives," bells ring, wheels go round and a lot of racket is made. It's so noisy it drives the family crazy! "We can't even hear the T.V. when it gets going," stated one member of the family.

This $25 purchase which Lisa took out of her savings to obtain for her eight month old pet has now been reduced to $12.50, "because people are finding out it is so noisy nobody is buying it."

When the family sits down to watch T.V. at night, Pumpernickel is placed into his plastic ball so he can "roam around the house" "it's quiter."

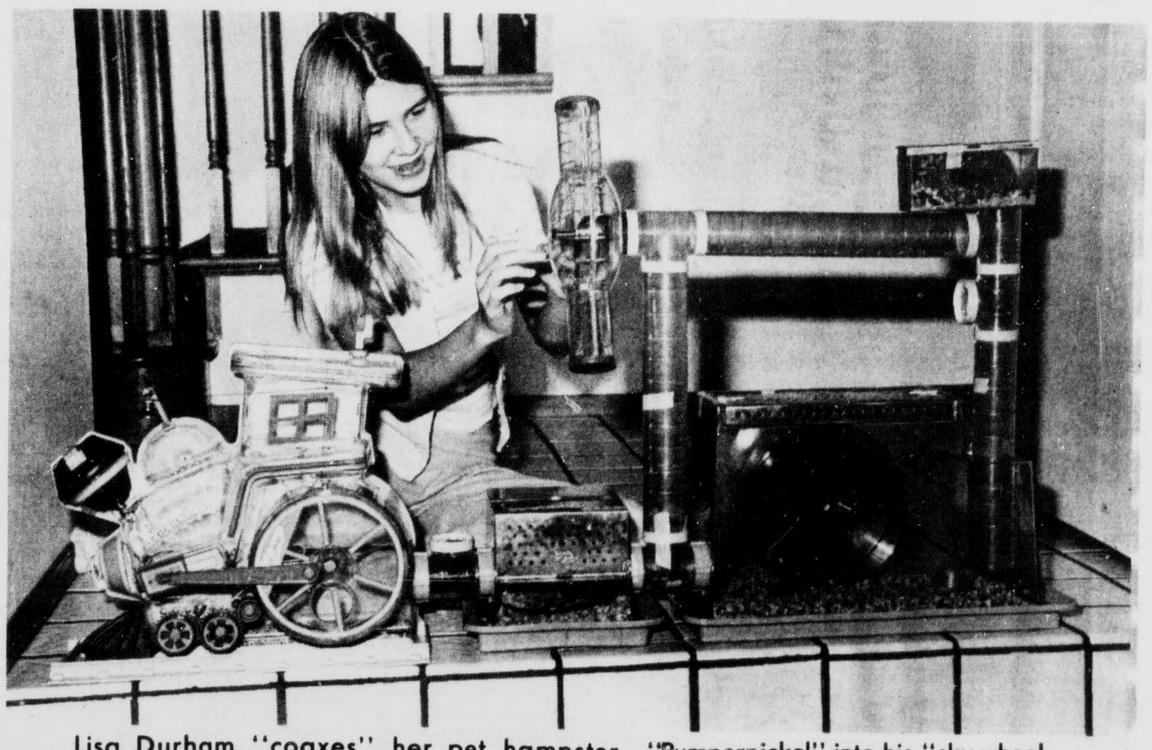

Following behind the train, is "the den" with tubes leading to his "sky wheel" over to his "sky house" and then another tube to his "regular home."

The apparatus takes approximately one week to clean. "By the time you finish cleaning it, it's time to start all over again," stated the mother of the house since she is the one who "gets the honors."

Lisa is now saving to buy a "sky restaurant" and "dragster" for her pet.

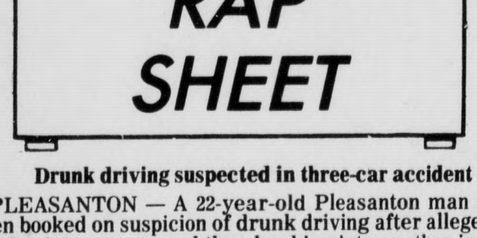

"Pumpernickel" is the eighth grader at Wells Intermediate School second hampster. Her first one was a white albino named "Snowball." "Hampsters only live for two years," say Lisa, so she wants them to have a "good life while here."

Drunk driving suspected in three-car accident

PLEASANTON — A 22-year-old Pleasanton man has been booked on suspicion of drunk driving after allegedly driving into one car and then backing into another in the Valley Plaza Shopping Center late Wednesday.

Witnesses told police that they watched as a car slowly drove into the side of a car in the lot at Santa Rita Road and Valley Avenue. Two other witnesses looked on as the car then backed over a traffic island and bumped into a third parked vehicle.

After failing a field sobriety test and taking a breath analyzer sample, David Lee Haseltine, 22, of Arroyo Court was arrested on suspicion of drunk driving.

There were no injuries, and damage to the involved vehicles was reportedly slight.

Watch taken from fairgrounds restroom

PLEASANTON — A $250 ladie's wristwatch was taken from a restroom at the county fairgrounds after it was accidently left there by its owner recently, police report.

Lorraine Emily Gaukroger of San Lorenzo told police that while attending a Moose Club picnic, she had gone into a restroom at the main exposition hall. After removing her watch to wash her hands, she left, forgetting the timepiece.

She returned a short time later but the watch was gone. It is described as a Bulova ladies's wristwatch, white gold with eight diamonds.

$500 hood taken from car on Corte Salcedo

PLEASANTON — Burglars removed the hood from a 1969 Mustang parked in front of a Corte Salcedo home early Tuesday, police report.

Robert Walter Decker told police that the hood, with a large hood scoop, was valued between $400-500.

There are no suspects in the early morning theft.

Youth arrested after allegedly taking battery

PLEASANTON — A 17-year-old Livermore youth was arrested after a Golden Road resident saw him take a battery from his Cadillac, police report.

The resident told police he looked out his window and saw the suspect working under the car's hood. Police arrived as the youth was walking away from the scene.

Police said the youth readily admitted the theft, and led police to bushes where he had thrown the battery.

Charges against the suspect are pending.

Displaced doggie deposit defiles domicle doorway

PLEASANTON — A Valley Trails Drive resident, apparently fed up with a neighbor's dog who left a gift on his lawn now and then, ceremoniously placed a recent sample of said material on the alleged offender's front walkway while the family's daughter watched.

According to reports, a 14-year-old girl was hosing dog droppings from the sidewalk in front of her home when the neighbor strolled over. He told her that even after shooting her family's dog with a slingshot to discourage that morning walk on his lawn, brown spots continued to appear on his plush greenery.

He then deposited an authentic sample of the stuff on their walkway, saying that "maybe this would correct the problem," police reported.

Now the dog's family has demanded that the dumper be prosecuted for defacing his property. Police attempted to contact the suspect, but was told he is temporaily out of town.

And you thought you had problems.

Zone delays pipe backing

LIVERMORE — After a scant 20 minutes of discussion, the Zone 7 water management board decided Wednesday night that the proposed sewage pipeline was too involved an issue to settle at that time, and set aside another meeting for recommendation on endorsement of the $21 million revenue bond measure.

Board sentiment on endorsing the project is apparently split, pending assurances from state and regional agencies that after the pipeline is built, no punitive action will be taken on pollution from surface runoff (rainwater) from the valley.

The valley is currently under the gun to stop dumping sewage into Alameda Creek, which pollutes the fresh water supplies of the Fremont area. Valley voters will decide Nov. 2 if they wish to increase their monthly sewer service bills from $2.74-$3.45 to pay for the sewer, and avoid the possibility of $6,000 a day fines until the pollution is cleaned up.

Zone 7 Director Richard Ryon said even if the pipeline were built, natural runoff from the valley still contains enough Total Dissolved Solids (TDS) to fail state standards three times over. If the valley were held responsible for the runoff pollution, another possibly larger expenditure to stop the pollution could be imposed upon valley residents.

"Two - hundred fifty parts per million TDS is three times better than God provides from the Heavens," Ryon said. He said that the outward goal is reasonable, but the standards used to achieve that end is "silly."

Ryon and fellow director Robert Pearson want written assurances from both state and regional agencies that the valley won't be held responsible for the runoff pollution once the pipeline is built, and have threatened to withhold endorsement of the project unless that guarantee is granted.

Director Josehph Concannon said that if the pipeline measure fails, "the valley will be the loser, not the state." He recommended the Zone endorse the pipeline project as a major capital improvement, saying it would improve the quality of underground water — "the very thing we're concerned with."

Directors Archer Futch and Edward Kinney, both former members of the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA) which is coordinating the project, said that the pipeline is the best of the possible alternatives.

"It's something we (as LAVWMA members) weren't given an option on. They told us what to do," Kinney said. "By not taking a stand, we would render ourselves as useless as the Congress of Valley Agencies (COVA). It's got to be an aye or a nay."

Director Gib Marguth said that LAVWMA shouldn't be bogged down with strings imposed by Zone 7. "I think the Zone 7 board would be irresponsible if we took either a yes or no position on the pipeline," he said.

Zone 7 Chairman George Lydiksen agreed, saying "it's their baby, not ours — our responsibility is to watch the groundwater."

Lydiksen then tabled Ryon's motion to demand assurance from outside agencies of no punitive action from runoffs until a later meeting, when the endorsement question could be more fully discussed.

In other action, the board voted to move Zone 7 Manager Mun Mar from his present Hayward office to the Del Valley Water Treatment Plant no later than Sept. 1. After he and his secretary are relocated, Mar would eventually recommend the movement of the entire Zone 7 engineering staff to Livermore if he thought it best.

The board also voted to continue one-man representation in COVA, and keep paying the $1,000 anunual dues for one more year. A similar motion to initiate a two-man representation to COVA and double its dues, such as other valley agencies conduct, was voted down.

BART feeder system

Shuttle buses used but lose money

The Toonerville Trolley may not run through the valley but there are other transportation facilities available to local travelers.

BART's shuttle bus system picks up and delivers about 850 people a day on its zone-one D line. Their zone-two U, UL and UP lines handle approximately 1250 passengers daily.

The D line covers territory from Walnut Ceek to Dublin's Regional St. interchange. Then the U line takes over. It comes from the Hayward area, goes to Dublin and continues on a Pleasanton, Livermore run UL goes from Bayfair to Livermore and UP from Bayfair to Pleasanton. Intermediate stops are made at designated places marked by BART bus stop signs.

BART buses are scheduled to run at certain intervals Monday through Friday from 6 a.m. to midnight. Fares are 25 cents unless you cross into another zone. Then it costs 50 cents. Senior citizens, handicapped and children from ages five to twelve ride for 10 cents per zone. Kids under five years ride free.

When asked if BART's shuttle bus system made money, a spokesman said, "No." He stated they only get a 15 per cent return of their cost. "But we won't stop running," he continued. "The BART Board decided the buses will keep running as long as the trains do."

Franciscan Lines also provides service to some valleyites Monday through Friday. They originate in San Francisco and come to Dublin, Pleasanton and Livermore. Four scheduled runs are made. Two make local stops. Two make a pickup at Granada Shopping Center in Livermore and go directly to East Bay Terminal in San Francisco.

Franciscan fares are flat rates. The ride from Livermore to San Francisco costs $37.50. From Livermore to Oakland it is $31.69. This gives the rider 20 one-way rides and there are no intermediate fares or special rates for the elderly, handicapped or children.

They aren't making any money either but are hoping this will change.

Greyhound Bus Lines transports people to and from Dublin seven times a day, 18 in Pleasanton and 23 times in Livermore. Children under 12 ride cheaper but there are no special rates for senior citizens or handicapped.

The Tri-Valley Cab Co. only covers the Livermore area. They are open for service from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m. Fares are $1.50 the first mile and 80 cents thereafter. Senior citizens may get a special rate if they qualify. Applications for this rate are available at the City Hall. Children and handicapped are given no special consideration.

Cal Air Commuter is one of the money makers in the local transportation group. They have two south and east bound flights daily and five northbound. The seating capacity is nine and their representative said, "The planes are always full."

LLL reports employe exposure at radioactive test facility

LIVERMORE — A significant, accidental radiation exposure to the hands of a Lawrence Livermore Laboratory employe may have occurred, according to the laboratory and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The lab, in keeping with policy, did not reveal the employe's name.

No symptoms of exposure have been observed. The employe is continuing to work without difficulty or impairment. He will receive regular medical observation at the laboratory until the possibility of symptoms appearing has passed. The most serious effect considered possible at this time is a skin burn comparable to a mild more moderate sunburn.

The possible overexposure occurred Wednesday, Aug. 11, at the Tonopah Test Range in Nevada as a result of a mechanical malfunction in a gamma ray camera system.

A cobalt -60 radiation source became detached from a control cable in a transfer tube leading from a lead - shielded storage container to the camera. In trying to return the source to the container the LLL employe's hands may have been over exposed to gamma rays from the source.

Radiation badges worn on the employe's chest showed a whole body exposure of 1.2 rem, well below the maximum permissable exposure of 5 rem. For the past few days LLL personnel have been simulating the accident to determine possible levels of exposure to his hands. Making the most pessimistic assumptions for the sake of caution, they estimated a maximum possible exposure of from 550 to 750 rem.

This range would place the exposure within the "Class A" or most serious range of accidents, so the accident is being considered in that light. Criteria for Class A vary depending on the type of accident; for radiation exposure to the hands or feet, an exposure of 375 rem or more is Class A.

In accordance with standard policy following a Class A accident ERDA has named a committee to investigate the cause of the accident and recommend steps to prevent reaccurance. The committee consists of personnel experienced in radiation safety from ERDA operations in Nevada, New Mexico and California.

Rem is a unit of radiation absorbed by a human being or a part of a person.

RR abandonment plan stirs use proposals

Announcement that Southern Pacific wants to abandon 21 miles of railroad track from Concord to the Kodak plant in San Ramon has drawn at least two proposals for the future of the right of way.

The railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commmission to allow it to abandon the railroad freight service on the tracks because shipments have fallen from 415 carloads in 1973 to 123 carloads in 1975. Most of the shipments were building materials used for construction.

The San Ramon area is planned for residential and light industrial uses and won't be needing rail service, according to Bill Phelps of Southern Pacific.

Kodak and other industries in Dublin and Pleasanton will continue to be served by SP via the Pleasanton tracks. The rail will be stubbed at Kodak.

George Cardinet, Jr. of the Cardinet candy fortune, is an avid horseman and has suggested to the East Bay Regional Park District that it acquire the SP right of way and convert it to a major horse trail.

Cardinet pointed out to EBRPD directors that Senate Bill 2718 would call on the Secretary of the Interior to give federal assistance in converting rails to trails.

On the other hand, Senator James Mills, San Diego Democrat, suggested that the rails be kept and some form of transit installed along with a bicycle trail adjacent to the tracks. Once the right of way is gone, you can't get it back, said Mills.

Thinking along the lines of public transit, Danville resident Patrick Whittle for the past few years has suggested a self - propelled railroad transit train similar to those in his native England.

Neither Cardinet nor Whittle has talked to SP abowt their ideas, but the railroad would be glad to listen, said Phelps.

Area teachers attend workshop

LIVERMORE — Four area teachers recently attended a series of workshops on physical education and athletic coaching at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo.

Included were: Ruth Boeve, Nancy J. Briemle and Bruce Chappell from the Christensen School in Livermore. Also, Don Hubbard of Jackson Ave. Elementary School in Livermore. All teach sixth grade.

Sixth nominee seen for LARPD vacancies

LIVERMORE — Robert Hebert of El Rancho Drive in Livermore has become the sixth candidate to take out nomination papers for election to the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District (LARPD) Board of Directors.

The seats of Chairman Marlin Pound and John Stroud are up for reelection. Stroud has indicated he will not run again.

Others who have taken out nomination papers include William Johns, Marlin Pound, Ronald Monks, Lee Lambert, and Ernest Rodrigues.

Only Johns has returned his papers.

Deadline for filing is Aug. 30.

Area schools to offer nature talks

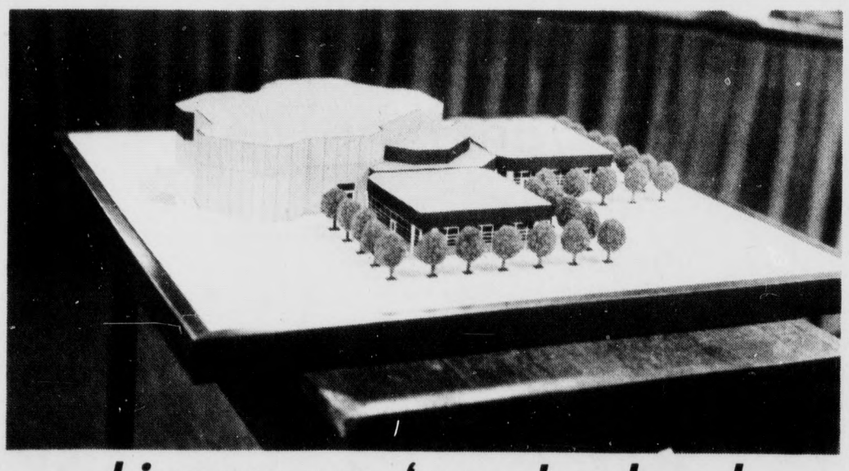

OAKLAND — School Districts within the two-county East Bay Regional Park District will be offering naturalist interpretive services free to their students.

For 14 years these services have been on a fee-paid basis. Now they will be provided by teachers, lecturers, volunteers, interns and student aides.

Some felt this was unfair in view of the high unemployement rate. They thought salaried personnel should be hired to do the instructing. Others thought it would be too much of a work load on the teachers.

All agreed it is a worthwhile program and one they hope to continue in spite of rising costs.

One member thought it might be a good idea to try and get a grant to cover costs of busing students to the parks for environmental studies. Other funding possibilities are being explored.

Livermore 'core' school

Work officially begins Wednesday on Livermore Unified School District's $10 million building program. A groundbreaking is scheduled at three 'core' school sites, Sunset East on Frankfurt Way and Rancho Las Positas and Christensen. This is the model on which 'core' school design is based.

Valley obituaries

Henry Gray

Henry C. Gray, 54, died Wednesday in a Walnut Creek hospital. A native of Detroit, he was the owner of Quality Auto Parts in Pleasanton.

Gray is survived by his wife, Genieva of Pleasanton; and children Dale of Pittsburg, Sharon Papeman of Concord, and Ronald of Pleasanton.

Also by brothers and sisters Steve, Mickey, Mary, Eva Peterson and Genevieve Wheeler, all of Michigan; and by three grandchildren.

Gray had been a member of the Machinists Local Union No. 1546 and the Lions Club in Pleasanton.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at Bryant and Lough Chapel, 1385 Galindo St., Concord. Interment will follow.

Contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Livermore's Sister City trip delayed

LIVERMORE — The visit by the Livermore Sister City delegation to Quezaltenango, Guatemala originally scheduled for late August has been postponed until December.

Since the sister city relationship with Quezaltenango was formed 13 years ago, delegations from Livermore have made annual summer visits to Guatemala.

But this year, only three members of the Sister City Committee were able to make the trip at this time, so it has been postponed until December.

Mayor Helen Tirsell and Richard Ryon will be this year's official representatives. Their transportation will be paid for by the city in the interest of promoting friendships and insights into the culture of Livermore's sister city.

Aquatic award

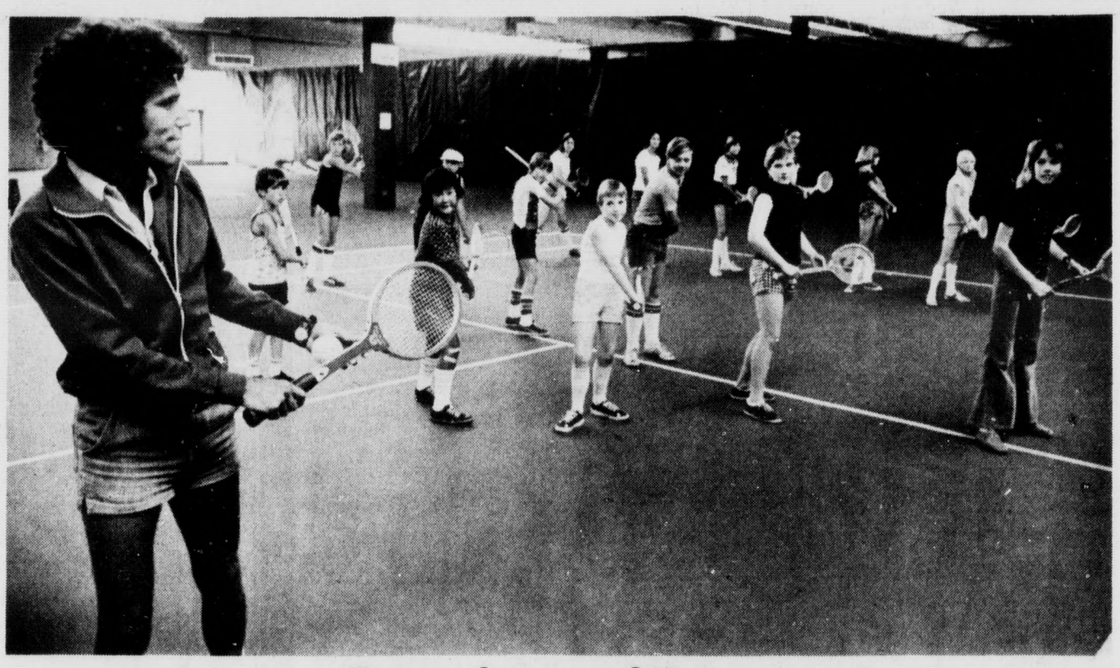

Carrie Halbrook, left, and Rick Bota proudly display the championship plaque where names of Splash Day winners will take their place in history. Splash Day will be held tomorrow at the Aquatic Center with registration at 9:30 a.m. and the events starting at 10 a.m. and running til noon. All learn - to - swim students are invited to the contest. There will be stroke contests, games, demonstrations, penny toss and prizes for all.

Cal High's prize pepsters

California High School's varsity and junior varsity cheer leaders came back to San Ramon with a bundle of ribbons (60 in all), two spirit sticks, a first-place trophy and a unity plaque after participating in the spirit camp at the University of California, Santa Cruz. Proudly showing off the ribbon boards is Cal High Grizzlies mascot Mary Clark. JV cheer leaders, from left, are Lucille Cortez, Debbie Bryant, head JV leader, Pam Jacka and Debbie Phillips. Varsity cheer leaders, on right side, are Kerry Collinsworth, Lori Ware, head varsity leader, Sarah Ware, and Suzanne Fiedler. Other team members are Cindy Takeda and Pat Camacho. This is the second year Cal High has been represented at the camp. They were in competition with cheer leaders and pom pon girls from 50 other schools.

Mass kidnap case

Jury to eye evidence

MADERA (AP) — Evidence in the Chowchilla mass kidnaping case probably will be presented to the grand jury on Monday, acting Dist. Atty. Charles Hoffman said Thursday.

Hoffman refused to say exactly when or if the case will go to the grand jury but added:

"We kind of expect to present something on Monday."

Investigators had announced previously that they were getting evidence ready in anticipation that the grand jury would consider it next week.

A preliminary hearing is scheduled Thursday in Chowchilla Justice Court for three men accused of the bizarre kidnaping of 26 school children and their bus driver on July 15.

Thus, the grand jury, meeting behind closed doors, would have to return indictments before Thursday. California criminal cases move directly to Superior Court for trial following an indictment, bypassing the lower court preliminary hearing which normally is open to the public.

The grand jury presentation could last three days, the district attorney said.

No subpoenas have been issued ordering anyone to appear before the grand jury, but bus driver Ed Ray will be there voluntarily, Hoffman added.

He indicated the prosecution may avoid calling the children to testify at this stage of the proceedings.

The children and Ray were stopped while driving home from summer school and were herded into two vans. They were driven around until early the following morning, then were placed in an old moving van buried at a rock quarry near Livermore 95 miles northwest of Chowchilla.

Ray and the youngsters clawed and dug their way to freedom after almost 18 hours inside the moving van.

Three men arrested later all have pleaded innocent. They are Frederick N. Woods, 24; James Schoenfeld, 24; and his brother, Richard Schoenfeld, 22.

Tri City Trek set for today

Tomorrow is the day for the valley's first Tri City Trek, an outing co-sponsored by the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, the Pleasanton Recreation Department, and the Valley Community Services District Recreation Department.

Enthusiasts may walk, run or jog on a choice of two courses. The long course (12.8 miles) begins at Shannon Park Community Center, 11600 Shannon Blvd., Dublin at 8 a.m.

The short course (5.7 miles) begins at 10 at Amador Valley High School in Pleasanton.

Both courses end at Carnegie Park in Livermore where cold drinks and picnic facilities will be available.

Trekkers will be required to register and pay a $1 fee which includes a certificate of participation. Registration will be held at the starting points of the long and short courses before the trek begins.

Minors must have a medical release form, available at the three recreation offices. Children under 14 must be accompanied by a responsible adult.

The course is pre-determined and supervised. Aid stations, roving vehicles and crossing guards at all main intersections will be on hand for trekker safety.

The first annual Tri City Trek is not a race, but an opportunity for families and friends to get together in the spirit of community and physical health.

GOP convention sparks humor for valley man

Steve Oldfield was sorry his candidate, Ronald Reagan, lost the nomination for the Presidency in Kansas City, but he had a few good convention anecdotes when he called The Times yesterday.

Maybe the hottest story concerned the interview which a California delegate, a reporter for Genesis magazine, conducted with Elizabeth Ray, the well - known Washington secretary.

Ray gave the reporter a picture of herself autographed "To all my Republican friends that I love" and another reporter said to Ray, "I thought you only loved Democrats".

And then there was the Kansas City Star reporter who was assigned to get the many color stories the editor knew was lurking in every corner of convention hall and the hotels. The reporter's story made a real hit on page one of the Star — it consisted of two colunmns of white space. Apparently Republican conventions aren't as lively as their Democratic counterparts.

And there was all that time the California delegation spent on the buses to and from their hotels, buffet dinners and caucusing. (There were so many caucuses even the Black people became Caucasians). "We might a get a 100,000 mile plaque from the Kansas City metro busline," said Oldfield. "We're the party that's against forced busing and now we've learned firsthand just how bad forced busing is."

And remember the Reagan delegate from Utah who had his sign stolen by a New York Ford delegate? In retaliation, he ripped out the New York delegation's telephone. Well, on Presidential ballot night many Reagan supporters wrote on their signs, "We've got more signs than you've got telephones, Rocky."

But there was a serious side to the convention. Reagan made his "thank you" speech to his home delegation from California yesterday.

Reagan quoted an old Scotch ballad: "I am wounded, I'm not slain; lay me down and rest an a bit, and then I'll fight again." Choked with emotion, Reagan began to cry and the whole delegation cried.

Grotto completed

Sacrifices and work on the part of the entire parish at St. Augustine's Catholic Church in Pleasanton brought the outdoor grotto in honor of Mary, the Mother of God, to completion in May. The project was initiated several years ago by Susan Patzkowski as president of the St. Augustine's Women's Club which sponsored numerous events to raise needed funds. Private contributions, including the statue of Mary imported from Italy, and donated time for grass and sprinkler system by the Knights of Columbus made the shrine a reality. The grotto was officially dedicated and blessed in a special ceremony May 12. The church is located at 900 East Angela St.

St. Augustine's

PLEASANTON— Teachers for the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine program are needed at all grade levels at St. Augustine's Catholic Church, 900 East Angela St.

The commitment to teach will require monthly workshops, class preparation, and weekly classes. Those interested in giving instruction voluntarily may contact Mary Ellen Luttenegger at 846-2342.

Regular activities at the parish include Saturday evening Mass at 5 o'clock, and Sunday services at 7:30, 9 and 10:30 a.m. and noon. The Blue Army Holy Hour meets Wednesdays at the church from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. The charismatic prayer group gathers Fridays at 8 p.m. For more information contact Tony Soby at 846-8919.

August is Parish Blood Drive Month with pledges taken after each Mass.

Orthodox Mission plans annual picnic

DANVILLE — The St. Michael's Orthodox Mission/ Church announces their Second Annual Picnic to be held on Saturday, Aug 28 from 12 noon til 6 p.m. at No 6 Donna Lane, Danville. The location of this year's picnic is the newly acquired property purchased by the small congregation to temporarily serve as a rectory and informal meeting place Hopefully the St. Michael's group will be able to build a traditional Orthodox church in the not - too - distant future. At present the Sunday morning services are being held at the chapel of the United Methodist Church of Walnut Creek on Sunnyvale Ave, at 10 a.m. This is the only Orthodox Church group in the entire Bay Area which uses solely English as its liturgical language, although both Greek and Slavonic (Russian) are used in token amounts to show historical continuity with these traditions.

The theme of this year's picnic is "Baseball & Hotdogs." Visitors welcome.

The Orthodox Church in America, of which St. Michael's is a mission - parish (i.e. congregation without a church building), is a member of the Standing Conference of Canonical Orthodox Bishops in America, chaired by the Greek Orthodox Archbishop Jakavos.

Pentecostal Bible College

LIVERMORE — Monday, Aug. 23 is registration day for the fall semester at the Pentecostal Bible College of Livermore, 1885 College Ave.

The physical education area is currently being wired to provide lighting for basketball, tennis and volleyball. The college's area has been completely redecorated also.

The college has made an appeal for donalions of food from its related churches. The school reports that its tuition charge to students is just over half of the real cost of their training.

Pleasanton Presbyterian

PLEASANTON—The Pleasanton United Presbyterian Community Church gathers Sunday, Aug. 22 at its 10 a.m. service to contemplate the belief that "Even the Dead are Alive!" Pastor is the Rev. Samuel Roberson.

Berean Baptist

LIVERMORE — Bill Ferry will celebrate the Aug 22 message of "Hallelujah for Humility" (2 Cor. 12:1-10) at the Berean Baptist Church, 2200 Bess Ave., 11 a.m. service.

The Sunday evening service at 6 o'clock will proclaim "There is Power in Praising Jesus." Sunday school for children of all ages and adults is slated at 9:45 a.m. with adults studying the Book of Daniel this week.

Child care is provided for all services.

A mid-week prayer meeting and bible study is scheduled Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Trinity Lutheran

PLEASANTON — Regular morning worship services will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hopyard Road and Del Valle Parkway, at 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. At 10:30 a.m. Pastor M.R. Kluender will lead a discussion on the sermon he preached. Participation is greatly desired for a stimulating fellowship discussion.

Valley Christian

DUBLIN—Sunday, Aug. 22, Pastor Douglas Shaw will be speaking on "How to Keep the Joy Flowing in Your Life" at the 8:15, 9:30 and 10:50 a.m services for the Valley Christian Center.

New year for Las Damas

Joyce Roust and Barbara Schoonover of the Las Damas Club get a preview demonstration on flower arranging from Henel Dentci of Helen's Blossom Shop in Livermore. Helen will be the featured guest at the club's first 1976-77 season meeting scheduled at Howard Johnson's Restaurant in Dublin on Sept I. Reservations for the day's activities may be made by calling LaJean Loethen at 443-0936.

Eagle Squares

The Eagle Squares report that 12 families enjoyed a weekend campout at Camp Shelley at Lake Tahoe recently, which included square dancing for the whole family, a marshmallow roast and tale-telling around the campfire.

The trip was cut short by the season's first storm, although similar outings will be planned by the club again.

The Eagle Squares will dance in an exhibition at the Liberty House in Dublin Saturday, Aug. 21 from 3 to 5 p.m. with Caller Nonie Moglia.

A class for beginners in square dancing will be hosted by the club starting Sept. 16 at the Mendenhall School in Livermore. Classes are open to persons of high school age or older. For information call 447-4917 or 447-5644.

Mini-golf

The public is invited to play miniature golf for the next three consecutive Fridays, Aug 20. to Sept. 3 from noon to 10 p.m. for the benefit of Children's Hospital Medical Center.

Host for the event is the Mulberry Branch of Children's Hospital and location is the Pleasanton Miniature Golf Course on the Alameda County Fairgrounds. For information contact the golf course at 846-7933.

lifestyle

LBP

Victoria DeBardeleben will host a potluck supper for members of the Livermore Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday, Aug. 25 at 6:30 p.m.

Assisting Mrs. DeBardeleben at her South Livermore Avenue home will be Mrs. Tom Bailey, Carmel Fannuchi, Eve O'Malie and Virginia Raboli.

Weight Watchers special

The importance of family support in the loss of weight will be the topic of discussion in a family night sponsored by Weight Watchers of Northern California Monday, Aug. 23.

The program is scheduled at the Pleasanton Women's Clubhouse at 4133 Regalia Ave. at 7 p.m. Marcy Hyman, area director of Weight Watchers and a well-known radio personality, will emcee the program featuring Alameda County Weight Watchers who have successfully lost weight with the support of family and friends.

The program, open to the public free of charge, encourages participation by the whole family. For information call 581-1047.

Seniors

It's "Happy Birthday" to the Senior Californians of Dublin-San Ramon Thursday, Aug. 26 at the Shannon Community Center in Dublin.

All persons of the area over 50 years of age are welcome to the meeting from noon to 3 p.m. Members bring a sack lunch with coffee and cake provided.

All members are invited to the club's executive board meeting Friday, Aug. 27 at 10 a.m. at Shannon Center.

Bicycling

The Hekaton Classic V sponsored by the Valley Spokesmen Touring Club is set Sunday, Sept. 5 and consists of three loops through the Eatbay countryside.

The first loop covers 25 miles through valley flatlands in Dublin, Danville and Alamo. The second loop is of 50 miles of valley flatlands and the rolling Tassajara foothills of Mt. Diablo.

The strenuous Hekaton loop of 100 miles takes in Niles and Palomares canyons, the San Leandro, Oakland and Berkeley hills and the San Pablo dam area.

For details contact Don Patterson at 443-1463 or Bonnie Powers at 828-5299.

Art auction

Congregation Beth Emek will give away an original oil painting at its Fifth Annual Art Show and Auction slated Sept. 11 at the Kaiser Center in Pleasanton.

A public exhibition of original lithographs, etchings, graphics, watercolors and oil paintings begins at 7 p.m., with the auction opening at 8:30 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres will be served and free catalogues will be available to patrons.

The art work will be supplied by Robert Sills Gallery of Beverly Hills whose experts will be on hand to answer questions. Included in the exhibit will be the works of masters such as Picasso, Dali, Rockwell, Chagall and others.

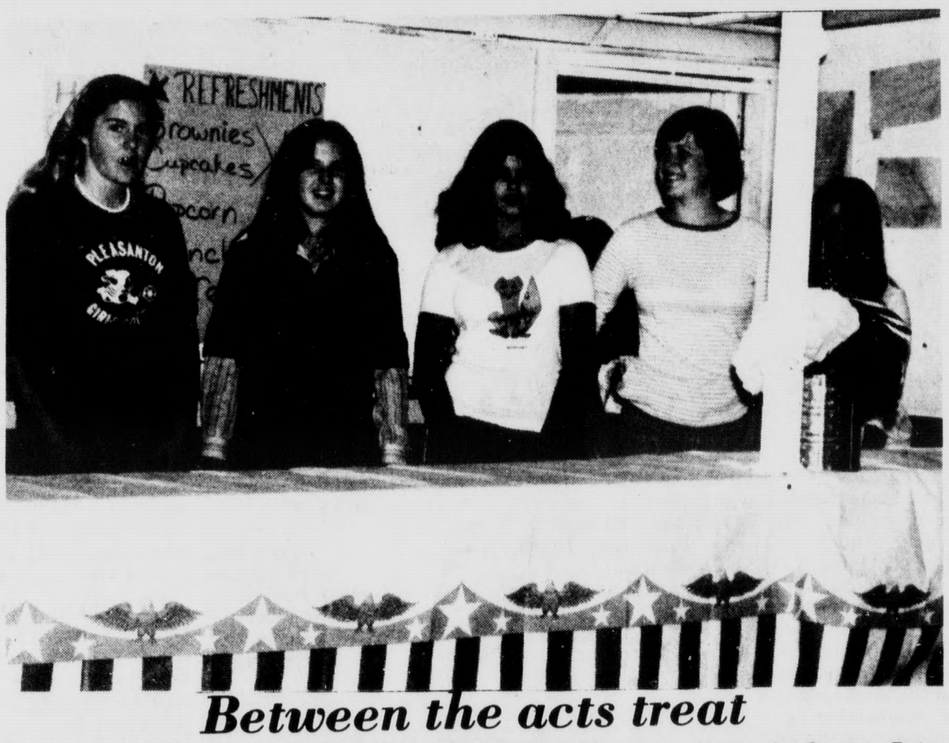

Donation for the exhibit is $1.50 per person, and leading bank charges will be accepted in payment for art work.

Bazaar

The Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, sponsor of the annual Community Christmas Bazaar, has recently mailed letters to 44 local groups to ask for confirmation of their participation in the Nov. 12-13 event.

Chairmen of groups who normally participate in the bazaar should contact the LARPD office at 71 Trevarno Road (447-7300) with confirmation as soon as possible.

Deadline for confirmation is Sept. 15, after which time the LARPD will assign remaining spaces to new applicants.

Between the acts treat

Playgoers to the weekend productions of 'George M' at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Amphitheater will find the Pleasanton Rainbow Girls behind the scenes with hot chocolate, coffee, popcorn, punch, homemade cupcakes and brownies for intermission time. Showtime is 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Capable concessioneers are Brenda Larson, Donyne Lander, Audrey Glafkides, Diane Look, Debbie Barkley and Lynn Barnhill.

Museum aide

Do you enjoy working with children? Are you interested in learning more of the history of the valley?

If so, the ALVHS Museum has a docent program designed to train you to conduct tours through its premises during the school year.

Training will begin prior to the start of the school year. Contact Curator Ann Lewis immediately if interested in the docent program at 462-2766.

Child care workshop

A workshop, "A Day With The Family Day Care Operator" will be held on Aug. 28 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Edgewater Hyatt House, 455 Hegenberger Road, Oakland.

The day's events are sponsored by the The Oakland Licensed Day Care Operators Assn.; Berkeley - Albany Licensed Day Care Assn.; and the Tri-City Day Care Assn.

The purpose of the workshop is to focus on the services proided in the licensed family day care home. Discussion session will be conducted on helping children build self esteem; literature, music and dance for children; non - sexism and sex education in the family day care home; first aid; parent involvement and how to work with parents; fund raising; and scientific concepts for young children.

Further information on the workshop can be had by calling Barbara Olsen, 846-7312.

Neighborhood

The Neighborhood, a show and sale of arts and crafts at Christmastime in Dublin, will jury applicants for the holiday show Tuesday, Aug. 24.

Non-professional persons are particilarly invited, with work selected on the basis of quality of craftsmanship, uniqueness and fair pricing. Last November approximately 10,000 shoppers stood in line to attend the show.

The Neighborhood Show and Sale is set Nov. 9 at Shannon Park Community Center in Dublin. Luncheon will be served to benefit a local community charity.

For information contact Loretta Talbert at 828-6232 or Gayle Warrington at 828-5311.

Teen dance

Teens throughout the valley are invited to "Boogie At The Barn" in Livermore Friday, Aug. 20.

Two bands, "Down To Earth" and "Pyramid," will provide continuous music from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. accompanied by an "Electric Light Show" produced by "Lights by Ace" of Livermore.

Donation is $1.50 per person. Refreshments are available at the chaperoned event.

The dances are sponsored by the American Senior League to raise funds for baseball diamonds.

WWI Vets

The Livermore Barracks and Auxiliary of the Veterans of World War I convene Tuesday, Aug. 24 at 1 p.m.

Commander Artis Cooper will preside for the barracks, with President Louise Ray officiating for the auxiliary at the Veterans Memorial Building in Livermore.

Refreshments will be served and bingo will cap the afternoon.

Bingo

A benefit bingo night for the Ballistic Soccer teams planning a Canadian tour is open to the public Friday, Aug. 20 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall.

Doors open at 7 p.m. with play at 8 o'clock at a donation of $5 per person for the ten game series. Substantial cash prizes will be offered, with refreshments available.

Advance tickets may be purchased from the following: Woodward at 846-5246, Miller at 846-2731, Dawe at 462 or Lang at 846-9614.

Carnival

A children's carnival featuring games, refreshments, pony rides, clowns and live music will be hosted by the Bicentennial Safari Saturday, Aug. 21 from 3 to 9 p.m. at The Barn in Livermore.

The Bicentennial Safari is a group of 40 teenagers representing Livermore on a trip to the East Coast to learn about American history.

For information contact Kathy Kaufman at 443-0818, Carol Boyd at 447-5991 or Shirley Lawson at 443-0918.

BART's deficit

From BART's battling Bob Allen comes this "correction" to another newspaper's claim relative to the red ink being incurred by that transit system.

"BART does not cost each taxpayer $1000 per year, as printed, but just $20 per capita — about six cents per day." That is Mr. Allen's message.

True. But when that same deficit is applied just to the 130,000 passengers carried each working day by BART, then it works out to something more like $390 per passenger per year. Added to the $1.6 billion it has taken to build the system, the total deficit — in one critic's view — "Could have allowed us to provide each and every BART rider with a brand new car, and still be ahead."

That of course is not the idea. Neither would the Bay Area populace "be ahead" if another 100,000 vehicular trips were added to the trans - Bay's congested routes. Bob Allen understands that, and so do we, despite our mutual misgivings over that transit district's shortcomings.

But it is still good to be reminded how far the taxpayers and the legislators have already gone in trying to meet the transportation needs of just three Bay Area counties. Again, as our Bob Allen notes, "We are stuck with the system and we had better make the best of it."

We had also better keep reminding some of those big spenders that the taxpayers are getting a helluva lot smarter, finally. There can be no more BARTs in the Bay Area's future.

Ask the Congress

In a year when a new president is to be chosen, and some would remind us of the crimes of one recent national leader, what are the constituents of one member of Congress asking that representative?

"Problems with curbside mail boxes mostly ... we got lots of mail on that one," Representative Pete Starks advises us.

"That scare over Federal funding of Day Care Centers, triggered by the John Birch fairy tale, that's been another hot item," Stark reports.

Trucks on Isabel Avenue, communists in Washington. Those are other "questions" directed by Valley voters to their Congressman.

No lament about the Nixon pardon? Nothing from Vox Pop on "the direction this great nation is taking"?

It sounds as though the residents of this one Congressional District are out of tune with the TV network offerings these days; either that, or those who have been pre - empting prime time from Kansas City and New York are out of tune with the real needs of America.

We'll give you one guess as to which group is out of step ... the political orators or the people who are paying the bills.

Hospital needed

Editor, The Times:

Not too long ago an attitude was expressed by the Livermore City Council through their desire to impose a tax on other than Livermore residents that they no longer visualize the valley as a whole. This attitude was again expressed when the so called "Anti-Expansionists" were running for election to the Valley Memorial Hospital Board. A feeling of "Livermore for Livermore Residents Only" pervades the smoggy valley atmosphere.

For now, physicians not residing in Livermore are excused from another Livermore City Tax, but for how long? Will the rest of the valley be pushed into a position of physician shortages by some future action on the part of another governing body? With this philosophy of isolationism exuding from Livermore Board and Councils, I am greatly concerned about the future of our health care for the entire valley.

On 8-13-76, the Valley Times carried a story headlined, "Hospital Plans Revealed," stating that a group of doctors and business people were seeking to build a west Valley hospital near the proposed Stoneridge Regional Center. I would like to hear more about this group and the facility which they plan to erect.

Those of us who have been valley residents for a while may remember when Dublin had an opportunity for our own hospital at the intersection of 580/680, which was an ideal location for Dublin - San Ramon and Pleasanton families and industrial centers. At that time we were assured by Livermore that Valley Memorial was our hospital and that any action taken to become independent and self-sufficient would endanger the future for Valley health services and Valley Memorial. The climate has changed.

Having our own hospital on this end of the valley would be more than a lifesaving "convenience" to residents, it would also serve as a real attraction to industry, provide jobs, and a stronger economic base for this end of the valley. Yes, I would definitely like to hear more from this group of physicians and business people, because I think they have a very good idea at just the right time!

FOCUS/Conventions

Posturing party

One wonders how meaningful the "planks" in a political party's platform can be when placed in the shadow of those persons who ultimately decide on policy.

It seems that an exorbitant amount of breast-beating transpires, often orchestrated by a few convention leaders, on subjects ranging from little to great importance.

The usual upshot is that few convention - attendees ever remember specific details and considerably less is absorbed by those following convention activities via the media.

Most important platform planks, such as abortion, school busing and detente, get shallow focus when there's a lull in nomination jousting.

Given the mood of the country and most recent Carter versus Ford polls, it seems safe at this time to predict that Democrat Carter will be this country's next president.

It would then follow that the Democratic platform would have some significance. Particularly since most of the planks were shaped under Carter's gaze — he having no opposition to speak of coming into the convention.

But it doesn't necessarily follow that future actions on the issues of abortion, busing, the Panama Canal, government reorganization and and foreign attitudes (Black African rule) will come out looking anything like what the Democrats shaped in New York City.

Carter has evidenced a deft ability for fence-straddling and fitting his speeches to the audience at hand.

Which is nothing new in American politics.

We have no assurance that Carter wouldn't gather a core of advisors about him, loyal to the point of ruthlessness such as played-out in the latter Nixon years.

The entire question of platforms and their interpretation by candidates really is a reflection of the American political system, in this instance the organizational structure of the convention.

We saw no evidence that this year's conventions were any different in substance than those of past years. They still are a boon to a city's economy and a bust as far as law enforcement agencies are concerned.

The convention remains a "platform" for posturing, partying and perversion (of mutual trust).

Perhaps the "cure" rests in restructuring of the convention — from the way delegates are selected to the manner in which meetings are held.

We have witnessed two candidates (Carter and Reagan) who selected their running mates, bypassing convention delegates for political expediency.

This writer believes such actions to be unprincipaled and kin to the goings-on of Nixon's last two years in office.

So until the time campaign and convention practices can be truly reshaped and refined, a vast minority of the potential electorate will continue to elect presidents and far fewer will have any say in determining policy.

Letters to the Times

Brandes boosted

Editor, The Times:

Councilmember Brandes' expose of the sewage service rate charged to the Cheese Factory has raised considerable official resentment. On the contrary, he should be commended for divulging the disparity in fees between those of a residence and of a large sewage user in Pleasanton. The Cheese Factory's average sewage discharge was about 11,000 GPD, while that for the average residence was about 280 GPD. This is a ratio of about 40/1. I paid fees of $62.50 while it paid $570, which is a ratio of about 9/1. I agree that the Cheese Factory is favored.

The average biochemical oxygen demand BOD for residential sewage is only about 0.5 lbs./day. Therefore, since that of the Cheese Factory is about 200 lbs./day, it utilizes the capacity equivalent of about 400 residences. If it were to reduce it's BOD discharge to half, we could allow about 200 more residences to be built and sewered.

Councilmember LeClaire's excuse for keeping this study quiet (that the majority did not want this to become a campaign issue in the last Council election) sounds a lot more like she feared it would hurt the Administration's favored incumbent. I consider this action as another political coverup. It is not the way for the administration to build public confidence and good will.

Whether or not Councilman Brandes used the most appropriate means for making this episode public is of minor concern . . . Mayor Philcox (says) five councilmembers are supposed to act as a team, but Brandes would not cooperate. I say that after four months of procrastinating silence by the council majority, Brandes had every right to break the silence . . .

This subject is certainly one that the citizens have the right to know about. Councilmember Brandes did us citizens a big favor by daring to speak up about it . . .

It is disappointing to realize that the staff has been so slow in responding to the 1966 resolution specifying that the city should issue sewer permits to high BOD discharge contributors. Ten years is a long time! What might be the reasons for this?

'Sayonara'

Dear Editor:

After a two-week visit, we are now leaving this beautiful town. And I am writing this short note to show my sincere appreciation for all the kindnesses we have received from our host families, various people we have met, and the last but not the least important, your respectable paper which carried news about us twice at the first page. The pictures and articles which appeared in your paper will be a wonderful souvenir for all of us to take back to Japan.

One of the host families gave us the following Haiku (Japanese short poem consisting of three lines, with the first line consisting of five syllables, the second seven syllables and the third five syllables again;

SAYONARA
Cool August breezes
Blowing away Tokyo
friends
Dry our tearfilled eyes.

In return, please let me offer my sincere thanks to all the people of the area with these short lines;

Such wonderful days,
Away from sultry Tokyo,
Spent we in Dublin.
What a pleasant time
Did we have in Pleasanton,
On those August days.
We now have to leave,
With beautiful memories,
That nice valley area.

Garbage vote

Editor, The Times:

There is really something wrong with our city officials! How come they now want to put the garbage question on the ballot for the people to decide; the sewer pipe question has to go to the people; the tax override which starts with 25 cents and could be raised arbitrarily if passed, now will go to the people again, etc. when the biggest thing that ever happened to Livermore's finances is the RR relocation project. 3029 people signed a petition to put to a vote and the council and the city lawyer refused to let people vote on that.

Now, can you interview the mayor and city council and have them explain, on your front page (like the garbage) why we couldn't vote on the RR job? There certainly were over 3000 registered voters! Why?

Mrs. Shirley MacGregor
Livermore

round the town

I am indebted to Mayor General Frank Schober, Jr., commander of the California National Guard, for advising me that he is waging war on obesity.

"I am calling on each and every one of our 26,000 National Guardsmen in California to shape up by slimming down "So says Schober.

I urge you, Frank, to think this thing through. I mean, what is to become of our nation if obese Guardsman are to be suddenly banned from the ranks? The picture of a rotund reservist standing large in defense of our nation's principles is as American as apple pie — large slice with ice cream, please.

Most of us have long come to identify strength with girth. The measure of our military might is firmly registered on tape — and never less than a 42 large.

When is the last time you saw a cartoon of a skinny general?

I tell you, Frank, this ruling against fat Guardsmen could have implications throughout our military system. Think of the free world! Think of Big Mac!! What will become of Colonel Sanders??

"The well - fed look is out." I cannot believe you said that, Frank. "Plump will no longer be pleasing in uniform." Have you lost your senses, man?

How can you forget the declaration of Admiral Overweight during the Bay of Pigs battle? — "What's good for digestion is good for the nation." That's what he said. And PBX operators everywhere were cheered by his slogan.

I really believe, friend Frank, that you are confusing "fat" with "inefficient." I am informed this misguided idea arose when less than one half of one percent of the National Guardsmen over the rank of Specialist Four were able to bend over and touch their knees. I suggest such emphasis on physical conditioning is no way to run an Army!

"An army marches on its stomach." Surely you have not forgotten that, Frank. How else do you suppose our troops rolled across Europe, squishing Italy, squeezing South Korea. (And I won't even remind you of that CIA report which suggests we only lost Vietnam because Congress refused to ship the required number of New York steaks.)

Now, as a taxpayer and a civilian, I can appreciate your concern, Frank, for keeping our Guardsmen and our Reservists at the ready, so to speak.

"I don't want to meet officers or enlisted people who get out of breath lacing their boots." That's in your Order of the Day, the one on obesity.

What has lacing one's boots got to do with keeping the Chilean forces from landing on Malibu Beach, I ask you? Let the orderlies lace the Guards officers' boots, as in the past. And don't tell me you're going to abolish the orderlies too!!

In perilous election times like these, it behooves us all to think carefully about the long - term impact of our statements. I mean, have you checked this "no fat Guardsmen" business with Henry Kissinger? Can you imagine the argument going on right now between Henry and Nancy ? ... not to mention Henry and his tailor. What are the Fat Cats in the European Alliance going to think when Henry is carried off that plane ... emaciated, drawn, unsmiling! Have YOU ever tried to solve the world's troubles on an empty stomach?

"The National Guard is charged with graven responsibilities in time of local and national emergencies," you said, and I cannot disagree, but then you add — "it must be ready to meet those emergencies without undergoing weeks of preparation to get into proper shape. The worst enemy of good physical condition is being overweight."

Heresy! You can sure tell you aren't a member in good standing of the Officers' Club. I'll bet you have never elbowed your way onto Treasure Island around the five o'clock Happy Hour. My God, the sight of all those officers pushing themselves out of those deep - leather chairs just to reach the bar, back and forth, back and forth, is enough to make a proud civilian cry!

If nothing else, Frank, think of the National Guard's budget. For clothing, I mean. Can you imagine the cost of supplying new uniforms if, as you suggest, "every Guardsman loses 15 pounds by April 1, or get out of the Guard!" That may be your personal goal, Frank, and I'm not going to argue with your right to reduce.

But please, do NOT fool around with this nation's stomach. It's the kind of insidious undermining of American strength that could find its way into Congress. And, as Senator Avoirdupois was saying just the other day, "Ever since they took away sex, about all that's legal is food and religion."

And the last thing we need right now is a Congress of the United States trying to order up the Lord. To go.

MIKE ZAMPA

Ten pins

Our desire for respectability has brought about changes in the recreational market place. Once there were pool halls and pee wee golf. Today we have family billiards parlors and miniature golf.

The same holds true in other pastimes, says Dennis Fanucchi, Livermore's bowling baron. You don't call it an alley anymore. It's a bowling center.

Dennis and his brother Bob just went a million bucks in hock to double the size of their Granada Bowl. At that price they may call it what they wish.

The ground breaking ceremonies were held yesterday afternoon. By Christmas, the bowling alley center will expand from 16 to 32 lanes, from 24,000 to 40,000 square feet. It will feature new equipment, new snack bars and a larger nursery for the kids of bowling mothers.

After eight years of planning and squabbling with the city, and pleading with lenders, it's like a dream, say the Fanucchis.

Their parents, Edna and Angelo, purchased Granada Bowl in 1964. They gave it to Dennis and Bob, and their sister, Sandy, to operate.

Since then the family has become something of a bowling trust. The nearest competition is in Danville. Granada Bowl is crammed with people. Casual bowlers could get Chorus Line reservations with more ease.

"The town is ready for more lanes," says Dennis Fanucchi, who drools at the opportunity to accomodate.

Dennis is the most visible member of a ubiquitous Livermore family. He drives a shocking pink Lincoln, shoots a terrific game of pool and possesses conniving charm. Everyone likes him. Nobody would shoot crap with his dice, though.

Fanucchi has been pushing expansion of the family business for nearly a decade. Two years ago he announced formal plans in the local papers. He even published a sketch of the plans. The whole thing fell through.

This time it's certain, Fanucchi says. By next week construction crews will be on the job.

The Fanucchi clan has just signed a 25 year lease for the complex. They reject occasional offers to sell out.

Dennis swears the expansion wasn't planned to coincide with the announcement of a new bowling center in Dublin It's something the brothers always wanted to do.

"We've been biting our tongues for four months," says Dennis. "We weren't going to announce it this time until everything was final."

Despite Granada Bowl's success, expansion is risky. The Fanucchis will introduce a spring bowling league in January and it has to attract people. Loan payments will sting if those 16 new lanes aren't filled.

No one Panics at the thought, however.

Even in the bleakest financial weather, there are enough Fanucchi brethren to operate the bowling lanes.

Risk is nothing new, anyway. The family owns two race horses, (an investment of $10,000) and has followed the county fair racing circuit this summer.

Dennis won't say how much Clan Fanucchi has won on the thoroughbreds. His eyes twinkle devishly at their mention, however.

Just the way they did yesterday when the first shovel full of earth was turned for the new bowling center.

"When the lifeguard blows his whistle does that mean somebody's drownin'?"

astrograph

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against impulsive actions today. They could be your downfall. However, in areas where you're patient you'll succeed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Jumping to conclusions in commercial matters could be disastrous today. Let your common sense prevail and you'll profit.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you apply yourself today you could transform situations of small promise into something personally advantageous.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) When confronted by challenge today you'll find it will awaken the best in you. Think "fight," not "flight."

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even though you will play the major role in something involving a friend, you'll look better if you let him take the credit for it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Put your clever mind to work today. Develop new procedures instead of adhering to worn-out routines.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Lady Luck may take a hand today if she sees you're putting forth your best efforts. Give it all you've got, but be alert for the breaks, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You can extricate yourself from something that's been bothering you if you view the situation from a fresh angle. Use your smarts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A profitable opportunity may suddenly present itself today. It will be the type that calls for a fast decision.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You'll reach those who really mean something to you by being generous today. Be a giver, not a taker.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) After a slow start your productiveness will accelerate surprisingly. You should be able to catch up on many small, neglected chores.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't wait for friends to call you to do something today. Take the initiative. Make plans that include them.

Your Birthday

Aug. 20, 1976

Some unusual, rewarding changes are in store for you this year. Conditions will change swiftly, so be ready to move when opportunity beckons.

Opening lead — Queen ♦

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is a hand that may well have decided the 1950 Vanderbilt Cup competition.

At both tables the queen of diamonds was led against the seven-club contract. One declarer called for the ace of diamonds, without any thought. Then he thought for several minutes before discarding his jack of spades. Several minutes later he was one down.

The other declarer did his thinking before playing from dummy and finally called for a low diamond. He ruffed, cashed the ace of spades to see what happened, cashed the ace of hearts for a second look at possibilities and then played the king of spades. When that dropped the queen he led to dummy's ace of clubs, discarded his four of hearts on the ace of diamonds, came back to his hand with a heart, drew trumps and claimed his grand slam.

This grand slam swing decided a first-round match. The lucky winners then went on to win the tournament.

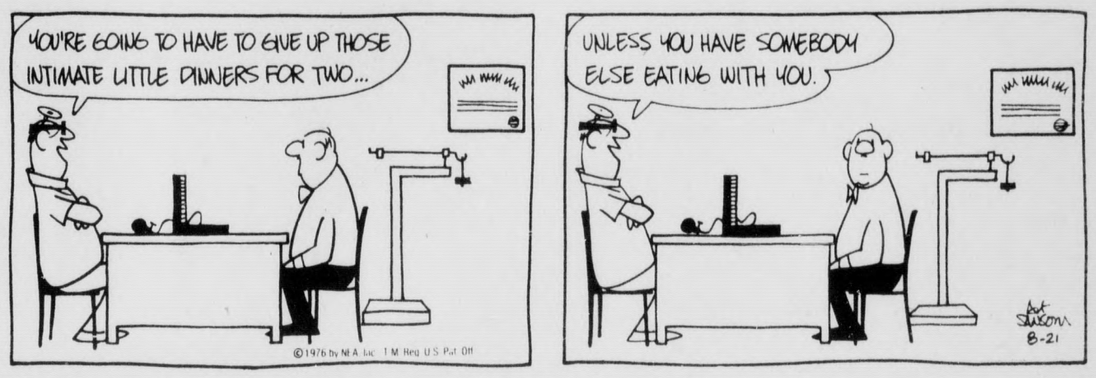

Ask the Jacobys

No point value is given to tens and nines yet they are very important cards, particularly at notrump. Your normal holding is one of each. If you happen to hold two of each you can count a 15-point balanced hand as worth 16.

If you hold three tens you definitely should raise your initial notrump count by one point.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Earthquakes host Dallas

San Jose's rousing Earthquakes host Southern Division runnerup Dallas tonight at 8 when the North American Soccer League playoffs begin for the Bay Area team.

This will be the firs ever professional soccer playoff game ever played in San Jose, and surprisingly enough, plenty of tickets were still available as of Thursday.

The 'Quakes ended up at 14-10 on the season, a full game ahead of Dallas and two ahead of third-place Los Angeles. Dallas had to beat LA Wednesday night to earn the shot at the San Jose squad.

San Jose ended its season with a 2-1 loss to Chicago and a 2-0 setback at the hands of San Antonio Previous to that, the Earthquakes had won nine of their 11 games.

Midfielder Tony Simoes, who joined San Jose just before the streak, was named to the All-NASL first team in a "Sporting News" magazine poll of players. He joined such stars as Pele and George Chingalia of New York, George Best of LA, and Tampa's Rodney Marsh on the squad.

San Jose's Mark Liveric, a left wing, was named to the honorable mention roster.

He'll miss the playoffs, however, due to an injured right knee. San Jose will also probably be without the services of right wing John Moore, who broke his right arm last Friday in San Antonio.

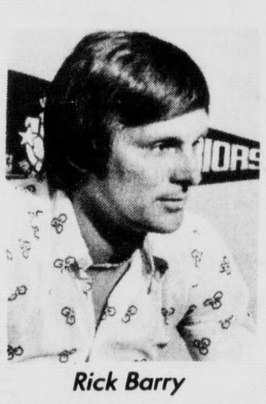

Tickets for tonight's game are available at all BASS and Ticketron agencies. Information may be obtained by calling 998-5425.

Barry loves the valley

Is Rick Barry leaving? No way. His roots are planted here deeper than a 100 year - old redwood.

"I love this area," said the Warriors' superstar after making he announcement that he plans to play for the Oakland team at least one more and possibly two more seasons.

"I really can't see any other place in the area that

Rick Barry

I would like to live," he continued, speaking highly of his spacious accommodations in Alamo.

"It's just a great community to raise children. One of my primary demands in making the decision was that I wouldn't have to move out of the area."

That decision was riding on swishing 20 - footers for another campaign or talking at courtside as a basketball commentator for CBS.

Broadcasting will always be there, says the Warrior captain, while the chance at grabbing a second world championship won't if he tosses in the towel.

"I think I made the right decision," he said. "I'm really looking forward to playing. Not many people have an opportunity to play in professional sports. I've really enjoyed the last couple of years. They've been fun. I may as well take advantage of the opportunity if it's there.

"I feel that television will still be there and you only have so many years in sports. I think that I would have regretted not playing when I look back five years from now. I've already promised the Warriors, whether I'll play the second year. I'll let them know before the end of the year."

Barry, who says he someday would like to build a large contemporary home in the Valley with all the extras, said his decision would have been easier had the Warriors zoomed to the top for a second straight season this year.

"I really believe that had we won it for a second year my decision would have been much easier," claimed Rick. "I think I very well may have gotten out it (basketball). That would have been the ultimate. Only two other teams have won it twice in a row. That would have been incredible. I would have leaned a lot more to the television situation."

Losing to Phoenix four games to three in the playoffs left nothing but bad scars in Barry's mind. He likes to describe it as "a bad taste in my mouth."

Had the Warriors crept past the Suns, the superstar forward was confident that nothing could stand in the Warriors path. Not even the NBA champion Boston Celtics.

"I don't think we were beaten out of it," he groaned. "I think we kinda gave it away. And because of that, I would like to go back and give it another shot. I would like to make it and if not, at least give it our best shot. I really don't think we did last year.

"I think we have as good a chance as anyone else if we can maintain the desire and dedication that we had the majority of the time last year, with just a few breakdowns. What we have to do now is eliminate those breakdowns."

And what about that place that Barry wants to someday build, featuring push button control, all the modern conveniences and best of all, no living room.

"I think the formal living room is the biggest waste of time in a house," noted the 6-7 Goliath, describing his future quarters.

"I don't want one," he continued. "The one I've got now I hardly use. And you put more money in the living room than any room in the house. All I would have in my new home is a sitting area with a fireplace, large enough to accommodate 10-12 people."

Barry wants to build a "wild" house but not to the point where it's too ultra modern. "I like to push buttons and have things come out of the wall. Crazy stuff like that has always intrigued me. I like the modern conveniences but done elegantly and on a contemporary type basis."

He also likes shooting baskets, especially when wearing the familiar blue and gold uniform Warrior fans are used to seeing.

Scottsdale 'B' Swim Meet Set

Scottsdale Swim and Tennis Club will host its third annual "B" Invitational swimming meet Saturday and Sunday at the Pleasant Hill High pool.

The meet is the largest of its type in the county and is expected to attract 1,000 children from 25 area city recreational swim teams and private swim clubs.

Cities represented will be Walnut Creek, Concord, Pleasant Hill, Antioch, Pittsburg, Lafayette, Moraga, Orinda and Richmond plus the San Ramon Valley.

Open to the public, the meet is expected to draw crowds of up to 2,000 parents per day and is open to the public. The meet is unique in that it provides the exclusive oppprtunity for "B" level swimmers to compete and excel. Swimmers whose times qualify them for the county "A" meet to be held later this year are excluded from winning awards, although they may participate on a complimentary basis.

NorCal stars sparkle

CONCORD — Dana Davidson and Amy Schinnerer of the NorCal Aquatics came through with nationall ranked performances at the Far Western Regional group swimming championships yesterday at Muncipal Pool here.

Davidson swam to a blazing 2:28.9 in the girls' 13-14 200-meter individual medley for second place. Libby Hill of Santa Clara won the event in 2:28.92.

Schinnerer recorded a 2:22.34 for second place in the girls' 10-and under 200-meter freestyle. Karen Barnicoat of Mission Viejo in Southern California was first in 2:21.09.

Aquatics coach Bill Radley praised the efforts of his swimmers.

"I think they did very well," he said. "Dana Had to taper for the big Olympic qualifying meets and other big meets or she might have won here. I think both their performances are fantastic."

Tracy Robertson and Bob Snodgrass also did well for NorCal.

Robertson swam to a personal best of 2:44.0 in the nine - and - under 200-meter freestyle. Snodgrass recorded a 1:06.0 in the 100-meter freestyle for the 12-13 boys' division.

Katie Fleischer of the Pleasant Hill Swim Club finished fourth in the girls' 15-18 200-meter freestyle. She recorded a 2:11.05 clocking. Don Donahue of DeAnza won the event in 2:09.13.

Mission Viejo, Santa Clara, Fullerton, DeAnza and Pleasant Hill dominated the competition in yesterday's opening round. The meet continues today.

Berryessa in Cup finals

They played both singles and doubles matches in the semi-finals of the Northern California Under-18 Junior Davis Cup competition yesterday at Tennis Town but Berryessa of San Jose had the match wraped up even before the doubles competition began.

Pat Adams of Berryessa took a 6-7, 7-5, 6-1 decision over Ron Whitaker of Roeding Park to gave the San Jose team a 5-1 lead with just the three doubles matches left. Berryessa went on to defeat the Fresno club, 7-2 and advance to the finals today.

The finals will be held at either Mill Valley, Castro Valley or Tennis Town. A decision on the site had not been reached by press time.

Beryessa, which drew most of its players from Piedmont Hills and Andrew Hill high schools, was in complete control of the semi-finals.

Ken Bryson of Berryessa lost the opening match to John Castillo, 6-2, 6-3 but Adam Wang came back to rout Charles Lense, 6-0, 6-1 to even the score at 1-1.

Don Linebarger, who helped lead Andrew Hill to the championship in the 11-school Mt. Hamilton League, gave Berryessa a 2-1 lead with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Mark Belman. Jerry Scholl and Brett Sargent followed with impressive two-set wins for Berryessa to set up Adams' match cinching victory over Whitaker.

The doubles were anti-climatic. Berryessa took two of the three matches. Wang and Brian Ota defeated Belman and Whitaker, 6-0, 6-1. Jerry Scholl and Brett Sergent took the other Berryessa victory with a 6-1, 6-1 decision over Andy Anderson and Pat Donohue.

In quarter - final competition Berryessa defeated Castro Valley 5-4 and Roeding Park rolled defeated Alameda County champion Castro Valley 5-4 and Roeding Park topped Santa Cruz, 7-2.

Berryessa was almost eliminated in the quarter - finals. Trailing 4-3 the San Jose netters won the last two doubles matches to cinch the win.

Roeding Park looked nearly unbeatable in its win over Santa Cruz. The Fresno club won five singles matces and two of the doubles matches.

Castillo was prehaps the outstanding netter in the tourney as he won all the matches he was in. Besides his victory over Bryson he also won the quarter - final match against Matt Scraus, 6-1, 6-0 and was victorious in both doubles matches he was in.

Berryessa assistent coach Mas Ota praised his teams' effort.

"I felt our depth would be the key for us," he said. "All of our players are good and we showed our strength in both the doubles and singles matches."

Giants strand 10, Candy sours SF

SAN FRANCISCO — It was clearly a conspiracy.

John Candelaria, Jim Barr, and later, Randy Moffitt obviously were enjoying pitching from the stretch. And San Francisco Giant and Pittsburgh Pirate runners must have been having a good time on the bases yesterday afternoon at Candlestick Park.

But the Pirates, who left 11 men on base, picked up a stray run in the fifth to clip San Francisco, which stranded 10, 1-0, before a crowd of 3796, 2709 paid.

Candelaria, knocked out of the box in his last start against Houston, returned to shutout form yesterday, despite giving up nine hits and walking a batter. But the New York-born Candelaria admitted he wasn't the same pitcher who no-hit Los Angeles 10 days before.

"I didn't have as much velocity as usual and my fast ball wasn't moving," he said. "I had to go with my breaking stuff and try pitching to spots."

Despite the fact that he had to pitch out of five jams with a runner in scoring position, Candelaria said he had to challenge an occasional hitter.

"In a tight spot, you've just got to say, 'here it is, batter, this is my best pitch,'" he explained. "I've got to go with it."

Candelaria, one of the Pirates better hitting pitchers, scored the only run of the game in the top of the fifth.

Attempting to bunt catcher Duffy Dyer to second, Candelaria was safe at first when Barr came off the mound quickly to turn a force play with a snap throw to stretching shortstop Johnnie LeMaster.

A line drive single to straight - away left field by hot - hitting rookie outfielder Omar Moreno moved Candelaria to second. He scored at a trot two pitches later when Richie Zisk recorded his 69th RBI of the season with a liner to left center.

Dyer, who has seen only occasional action for Pittsburgh, was in the game after umpire Harry Wendelstedt had chased Manny Sanguillen after a close play at first in the top of the second, contending that the purportedly devout lay preacher had zinged him with "the magic word," after being retired by LeMaster.

The Giants, meanwhile, limited the Pirates offense with a one-error defense that included a spectacular lunging catch by left fielder Gary Mathews at the 365-foot mark that robbed Rennie Stennett of an eighth inning extra-base hit.

But, at the plate, it was business as usual for the Western Division doormats. San Francisco loaded the bases with three first inning singles, but could not score.

In the sixth, hits by Ken Reitz and Dave Rader combined with an error on Pittsburgh first baseman Wille Stargell loaded them to no avail and in the eighth, Reitz got to third after a double and a fly ball to right by Darrell Evans, but stayed there as LeMaster popped up.

Tonight the Giants will send 6-7 righthander Ed Halicki (9-13) to the mound against former team mate Don Carrithers (6-8) in the first of three games with fellow National League cellar - dweller Montreal.

Merchants compete in regionals

SAN LEANDRO — The Livermore Merchants, designated the host team after a strong showing in the Oakland Metro Fast - pitch tournament last weekend will face Fresno tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m. in the opening round of the Regional championships at Thrasher Park here.

Raiders to Host Rams

Two teams who figure high as Super Bowl contenders in the National Football League will meet at 6 p m. Saturday when the Oakland Raiders host the Los Angeles Rams in a battle of unbeaten teams.

Last Friday night the Raiders overpowered the New York Jets in Yankee Stadium, 41-17, to run their pre-season record to 3-0. Previous 1976 pre-season wins for the Raiders came at the expense of the Dallas Cowboys, 17-14, and the St. Louis Cardinals, 20-9.

The Rams remained unbeaten by downing the Seattle Seahawks, 16-13, in Seattle Saturday night. In earlier pre-season action Los Angeles downed the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 26-3, and the Dallas Cowboys, 26-14.

The Raiders hold a 3-2 lead in the pre-season series with the Rams, having won in Berkeley in 1971, 20-7; in Los Angeles in 1972, 34-9, and again in Berkeley in 1973, 16-3. The two Rams wins both came in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, 34-23 in the series opener in 1970, and again last year, 6-0.

Rams head coach Chuck Knox, who has guided the Los Angeles team to three consecutive division titles and a 34-8 regular season record in his three - year tenure, is expected to start all - veteran units against the Raiders Saturday night.

Bockman's season is year round

Baseball season is winding down fast. The A's are surging, the Giants are floundering and Valley players have hung up their spikes until next summer.

But the season is never over for at least one Valley baseball enthusiast. Eddie Bockman lives and dies the sport 52 weeks a year.

A resident of Danville, Bockman has spent 37 years in professional baseball, the latter 18 as chief Northern California scout for the Philadelphia Phillies.

"I enjoy it very much, I haven't done anything else since I got out of baseball," said Bockman, who spent 19 years in major and minor league baseball, including three years with the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I was a jack of all trades," observed Bockman, "but a master at nothing. I played mostly at third base and second and short sometimes."

Ironically, the year Bockman played for the Yankees, 1946, New York didn't go to the World Series. "That was the first year the Yankees didn't win it," explained Eddie. "Oh sure, I played with (Joe) DiMaggio."

Bockman said he looks for four qualities in an athlete, the two foremost being physical ability and "how bad does the boy really want it.

"It doesn't take long," remarked Bockman Monday evening in his home, "for a particular fan to notice a kid has quickness in his bat and can hit.

"I dig into the kid a little bit. How he handles humility, failure, disappointment and success. If he wants — with a capital "W" — the game bad enough.

Eddie Bockman

"His off - field habits are important also. I talk with his counselors, mainly to find out if the boy is troubled."

In a letter he recently received from the baseball commissioner's office, 243 of the 783 free agent players drafted last June were from California. Bockman cited the weather and population for the overflow of talent from the sunshine state.

A minor league coach for four seasons, Bockman said the talent in Contra Costa County is steadily improving.

"There are better kids coming out. The coaching on the high school level has improved. There are more summer programs for kids. It's bound to show and reflect.

With five assistants working under him (part time) Bockman noted each year kids seem to be different. "I have to keep a broad mind.

"Basically, the kid who really wants it — who has his mind set on major league baseball — will show it to a scout.

Foreseeing a "realignment" in professional baseball in the next few years, Bockman noted the life of a professional athlete is everything people are envious of.

"Some people would love to change shoes with a pro," said Bockman. "You can't beat the retirement pension in baseball.

"Compared to the two other sports (football and basketball) the longevity of a baseball player is much longer."

Bockman, who sends in a list of 23 names annually, signed nine of Philadelphia's 25 picks last year.

"Around the seventh, eighth and ninth of June, you hope they pick that player. All the information you'd ever want to know about the kid is on the list."

Philadelphia meanwhile, has 24 full time scouts, of which 700 - 800 names are continually sent to that city in preparation for the elimination. "They eliminate and eliminate by computer," recalled Bockman.

"At times, Philadelphia requests a scout to come back if there are some high draft picks in your area."

Bockman continued about his scouting chores. "After a kid shows his physical aspects, I begin picking him a part. What can't he do.

"There are lots of things that enter into it. A few years later a kid might be out of baseball. Some can't handle it."

When asked the ultimate question: Will Philadelphia win it? Bockman countered. "When you spend 37 years in professional baseball a lot of things can happen in a short time.

"I hate to even talk about it. The Phillies certainly should win their division. They have the personnel and seven solid players who play every day.

"The run production and pitching is sound. They have a great defensive club." Come the playoffs with the possibility of facing Cincinnati, Bockman said "Adrenalin will flow within the players and organization."

Bockman, who began playing in the minor leagues in 1939, said the Philly organization the last two to three years has been "smoother and mellower.

"It's all been caused by the winning. The spirit is directed in a positive manner."

Having singed former San Ramon Valley High School's Bob Lang 10 or 12 years ago (who is no longer playing), Bockman also contracted present Phils Larry Bowa, Bob Boone and Atlanta's Dick Ruthven and Kansas City's Buck Martinez.

"Every player," said Eddie, "has to have imagination and hope to play in the big leagues. Too many kids are playing the game ... the talent has to come out.

"You don't hear too much anymore of a minor league player coming into the majors and when counted on, failing. Most stay and make it."

Bockman is spending this week and next in Oregon and Washington scouting the Pacific Coast League, a trip which is inevitable in his line of work.

"I'll be looking at a couple players. A future trade could develop."

The life of Eddie Bockman.

Pleasanton eyes study on parks' maintenance

PLEASANTON — A thorough report on how the city can water its parks and do other greenlands maintainance more efficiently will be discussed by the park and recreation commission next Wednesday.

The city council received the report last week with oral comments from Director of Public Works Field Services Arnold Eaton.

The concern for extra efficiency arose at budget time and after the hot spell in May the council added concern about why so many brown spots were developing on lawns from City Hall to Amador Community Park.

The report gives detailed recommendations about how to solve minor problems at a large number of city parks. The parks were walked by two employees, Foreman Larry Messa and Park Superintendent Phil Hallock.

Highlights in the report include a recommendation that the city spend $6,000 to install a sprinkler system in Wayside and Delucchi Parks. These are the First Street parks which technically are owned by Southern Pacific Railroad, but are being used as parks by the city. Their long - term future is in doubt. The railroad spoke of commercial development on the land, now that a cloud on its title has been removed. But the council is talking about negotiating to acquire the parks outright or continue their de facto use.

In any case the sprinkler system would pay for itself after three years because the intensive use of manpower now uses about $2,000 a year from the budget, said Eaton.

Mounds, such as those in Amador Park, create a problem, too, said Eaton. The sprinkler water runs off the tops quickly and a crew has to follow up with hand - watering.

Youth Sports Park, with its big demand for useable turf, has its unique problems, according to Eaton's report. The fields have to be watered at night because of heavy daytime use and if there is any malfunction of the sprinkling system, it doesn't become evident right away. Sports groups are critical of sufficient irrigation and claim the fields are too wet for their activities, said Eaton.

Volunteer groups sometimes create problems for city maintainance, too. The Little League Association installed three ball diamonds "with little control possible by city forces," said Eaton. Heavy concrete trucks and semi - dump trucks hauling sand and loam "drove over fields soaked from irrigation and created ruts, browned roadways, and broke several sprinkler heads in the process," said Eaton.

The Zone 7 cross - valley pipeline even got into the act. It contributed heavy sanding to the water mains used in sprinkling the Youth Sports Park and this plugged some sprinkler heads. Since then the city flushed all the mains in the northern third of the city and at the park and the irrigation system is functioning properly now.

Line holds on park tax rate

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — East Bay Regional Park District's tax rate won't change from its present 20.4 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

That's the verdict of the district's board of directors, although not unanimous.

Director Fred Blumberg of Lafayette, one of four incumbents up for re-election, vainly sought to cut the tax rate by five cents Tuesday.

Blumberg unsuccessfully tried for the tax cut in May when the board adopted a $22.8 million district budget.

He urged the board to "stand up and take some responsible action."

Directors Mary Jefferds of Berkeley and Harlan Kessel of Oakland, also up for re-election in November, sought to increase the tax rate by one cent. They were eventually persuaded to withdraw their motion Tuesday after a stern warning from Director William Jardin of San Leandro, who declared "this is the wrong time to be asking taxpayers for more money."

Blumberg and Kessel each clashed over the other's motives before the tax increase motion was withdrawn.

The park district has a basic tax rate of 20 cents. The first 10 cents is to be used for maintaining and operating pre-1972 parks, while the second 10 cents serves as a supplementary tax fund for acquiring new lands. Eighty per cent of the second dime goes for land acquisition and the balance for maintenance.

But recent legislation allows special districts operating under a fixed tax ceiling to utilize such factors as the Consumer Price Index and population increases as well as assessed valuations in arriving at the tax rate.

The 20.4 cent tax rate must still be equalized between Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Preliminary figures indicate the assessment ratio for Alameda County is 25.8 per cent of the full cash value, while Contra Costa's is 22.4 per cent, District Controller Ralph Meilandt said.

Because Contra Costa's assessment ratio is lower, its park district tax would be higher, he said.

Bicycle link to Sunol

OAKLAND — The State of California Transportation Department (CalTrans) may underwrite the $500,000 cost of extending a bicycle trail through Niles Canyon. It would link up with East Bay Regional Park District's 12-mile Alameda Creek Trail.

High costs made an off-road trail impractical according to CalTrans' Non-Motorized Planning Section. Ultimately, EBRPD hopes to extend the trail through Sunol Regional Wilderness.

In other business the EBRPD Board accepted a deed for land giving right of way for the projected trail from Las Trampas Regional Wilderness to Mt. Diablo.

Boost in lobbyist's contract

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — The county's $36,700-per-year Sacramento lobbyist will get a new, two-year contract that will tack on $150 a month in car lease expenses and may provide for a higher annual raise.

Charles H Cruttenden, whose three year contract with the county expires at the end of the current fiscal year, will get an annual raise "in accordance with the average change in management salaries," according to the resolution, rather than the average change in the salary of the "majority of county employes."

County management this year received a heftier pay raise than rank-and-file workers. The difference touched off a seven-week strike, the longest public employes' strike in state history.

Cruttenden currently receives $36,768 per year. The proposed contract does not change his present salary.

Valley soccer shop to open

Dennis Bushman, owner of the new Soccer Unlimited sports shop opening in Dublin this Saturday, shows just a small sample of the huge quantity of soccer gear his store will feature. The store offers a 10 per cent discount to league members.

DUBLIN — How does a devoted soccer father top being his son's soccer coach? He opens a soccer shop. It's called Soccer Unlimited, and the new owner's name is Dennis Bushman.

Bushman, a former sales representative, says his son first got him interested in the sport. That interest soon led to the coaching job on his son's soccer team.

"After a while," said Bushman, "I realized that the kids didn't have once central place to buy their shoes and soccer gear at a good price." So he decided to do something about it.

That something turned out to be Soccer Unlimited, the valley's first complete soccer shop. It's located in Dublin at 6980 Village Parkway. Avid soccer players, both kids and adults, will find everything they need for their favorite sport from shoes to shirts, soccer balls to games and books. Teams can get uniforms and all needed equipment.

As to price, Soccer Unlimited offers a 10 per cent discount on all merchandise to any member of an organized soccer league.

Bushman, the newest member of Dublin's Chamber of Commerce, has been a valley resident for the last 26 years. He and his wife, Bernice, have two soccer - playing children, Laurie and Dennis Jr.

Soccer Unlimited opens Saturday at 9 a.m. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday (Thursday until 7 p.m.) and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bushman invites all valley residents to come in and register to win a $30 leather "Munich" game ball. The drawing will be held Sept. 25 with Angela Rosas, Maid of Dublin, selecting the winning ticket.

Walk-up man robs drive-in photo store

ALAMO — A walk-up bandit to a drive-in photo store got away with $62 Thursday afternoon.

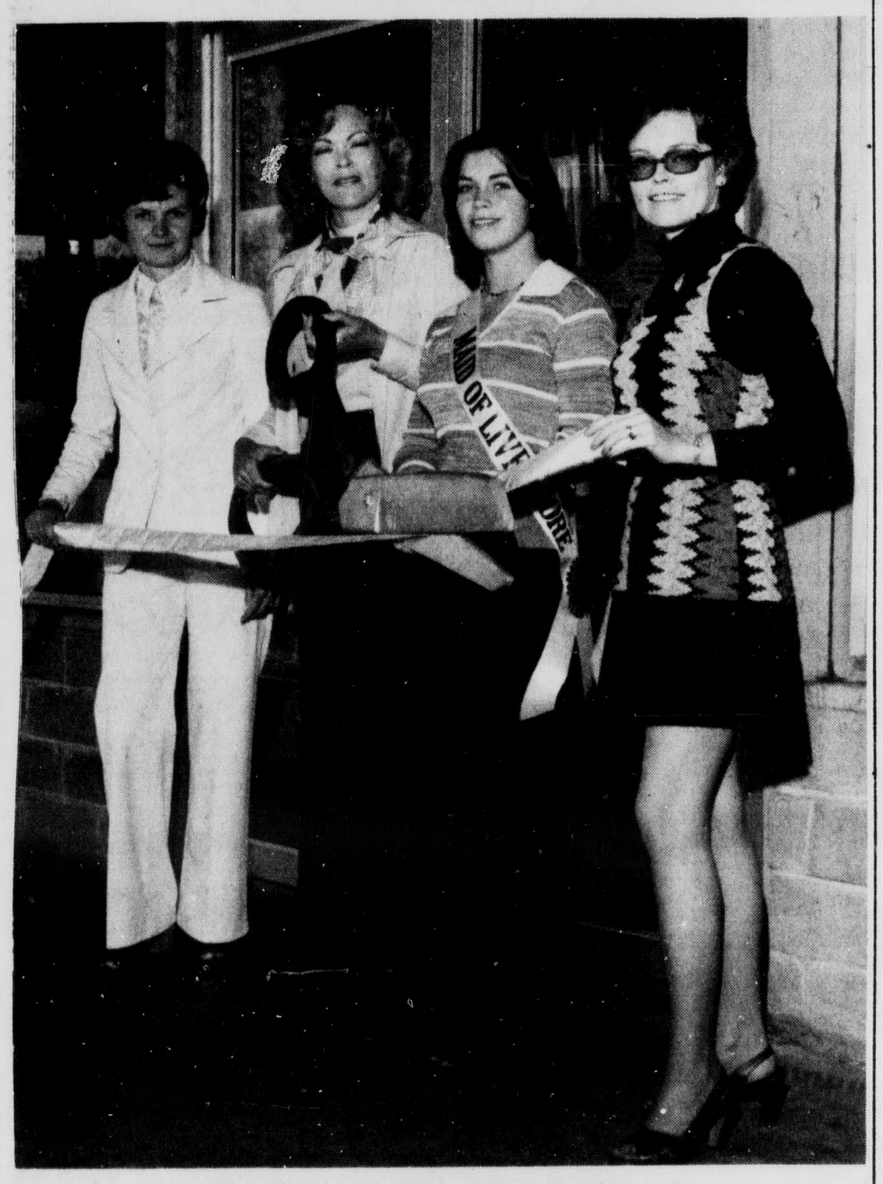

A young man approached the drive-in window at Photec, 3223 Danville Bvld., and told the clerk: "There's a man across the street with a gun. Put the money in the bag."

The clerk gave the robber the money and he fled on foot.

Sheriff's deputies described the robber as about 18 years old, 5-feet-8, with a slim build.

Salon remodeled

Ribbon - cutting ceremonies were recently held after Susanne's Salon of Beauty in the East Avenue Shopping Center remodeling. Shown above are Sandra Pierce from the Chamber of Commerce, owner Susanne Orton, Maid of Livermore Jennette Hinchey and Ginger Becker of the Chamber. Two stylists will be added to the seven - person staff in September. Susanne's styles both men's and women's hair. The salon is open seven days a week, and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

THE NEW GENERATION

TOYOTA COROLLA LIFTBACK.

IT PUTS THE F-U-N BACK INTO "FUNCTION."

WE'LL MAKE YOU A FAIR DEAL ON THIS GREAT CAR.

This bold new Corolla Liftback is the quality car for the family man or woman who enjoys driving.

A gutty overhead valve engine works with a gas-saving 5-speed gearbox to get you going fast. Power-assisted front disc brakes stop you fast. And a special front suspension system helps corner you flat.

The back seat splits. Fold one half down, and you can carry a dozen 6 foot 2 x 4's and a third passenger. Fold both halves flat, and there's room for a dozen bags of groceries.

It's engineering like this that separates Toyota from the pack.

And then there's our fair deal. Chances are, you'll find you can live quite comfortably with it. In fact, you'll probably boast about it to your friends.

That often happens when you combine a fair deal and a great car. Stop by, and we'll prove it.

36 MPG HIGHWAY. 20 MPG CITY. WITH 5-SPEED OVERDRIVE TRANSMISSION. THESE CALIFORNIA EPA RESULTS ARE ESTIMATES. THE ACTUAL MILEAGE YOU GET WILL VARY, DEPENDING ON YOUR DRIVING HABITS AND YOUR CAR'S CONDITION AND EQUIPMENT.
